

OUR STORY

Nature's Secrets has embarked on a sustainable journey in promoting responsible beauty that is natural, safe and ethical. From our inception we have been fiercely passionate about environmental conservation, consumer wellbeing and community empowerment, and are honored to be the only natural cosmetics company to be awarded Sri Lanka's highest national environmental award.

Taking a step further to help preserve the island's biodiversity, we have grown a sprawling garden of over 800 medicinal plant varieties, including endemic and endangered species. Today it is the island's largest privately held medicinal plant collection for conservation and cosmetic research. To discover more about our responsible beauty initiatives visit us at
