

About us

Driven by a vision to protect our planet for future generations and provide sustainable livelihoods for rural farming communities, the organic agri export operation of D P Global Ventures (Pvt) Ltd. (DPGV) is an initiative of the David Pieris Group of Companies. David Pieris Group is one of Sri Lanka's largest diversified conglomerates, which has interests in key sectors of the economy including Financial Services, Logistics, Automotive, Information Technology, Racing and Leisure.

Our Farms And Farmers

The entire growing process comes under the inspection and certification of the Control Union. Today, we are engaged in the cultivation of several hundred acres of certified organic plantations. DPGV plantations are located around the island and equipped with modern infrastructure including greenhouses and drip irrigation facilities with focus also being placed on inter-cropping. Our organic out-grower farmer network extends to several hundred small time farmers covering an extent of over 3,000 acres across the country. Farmers are encouraged to practice sustainable methods of farming that will preserve the soil and ecological balance and are continuously trained in organic standards.

Our Processing Facility

All our products are processed and packed according to organic standards of EU, NOP/USDA and conform to stringent standards of hygiene in our BRC, HACCP, ISO 22000:2005 certified manufacturing facility.

Our Certifications

Our Products

We offer organic and healthy products with no artificial preservatives, chemicals or colours. Our organic products are available under our own brand "Eliya" and for private labels catering to retail, food service and ingredient segments of the international market. All fruits and vegetables used in our products are carefully selected and sourced from our organic certified farms and certified small farmer network.
